Dear Dr Kamol,

Announcement of the SEAMEO 50x3 Schools' Network, and SEAMEO Song Angkalung Contest

We have the honor to address you in the capacity of a Governing Board Member of SEAMEO RECSAM and to inform you that the Southeast Asian Ministers of Education Organization Secretariat (SEAMEO Secretariat) in collaboration with the SEAMEO Regional Centres is pleased to announce the following regional initiatives for schools in Southeast Asian countries to promote the special occasion of the SEAMEO 50th Year Anniversary in 2015.

1. SEAMEO 50x3 Schools' Network.

The SEAMEO 50x3 Schools' Network is a networking platform to promote sharing and development between schools across Southeast Asia. The network aims to leverage the capacity of school leaders, teachers and students through capacity development programmes and contributions from 21 SEAMEO Regional Centres, SEAMEO stakeholders and SEAMEO partners. The network also provides opportunities for schools within the network to develop partnerships at the same, and across different educational levels with its purposes of encouraging cooperation, sharing of good practices, and exchanging teachers and students. The networking platform will also provide opportunities for teachers and students to understand cultural differences and leverage their necessary knowledge, skills and values to become global citizens and be more prepared for regional integration.

For the year of 2015, 50 primary schools, 50 secondary schools and 50 vocational and technical schools in Southeast Asia will be selected to participate in this SEAMEO 50x3 Schools' Network.

We would like to invite public and private primary, secondary, and vocational and technical schools in 11 Southeast Asian countries to submit the applications to participate in this network. The last day for submission of school applications is Monday 17 August 2015.

2. SEAMEO Song Angklug Contest

The SEAMEO Song Angklung Contest aims to promote the Southeast Asian identity and appreciation of cultural heritage through a common and unique musical instrument in Southeast Asia, called "Angklung". Playing angklung in a group setting can promote the necessary values and skills of Southeast Asian students such as cooperation, team work, responsibility, concentration, mutual respect, creativity, artistic, and etc. which will better equip them for the 21st century and ASEAN integration. The Contest consists of 2 categories: 1) Traditional Angklung Performance, and 2) Digital Angklung Performance by using mobile phone. The school entries must include 2 songs: 1) SEAMEO song (Building the Future, the SEAMEO Legacy), and 2) a popular song.

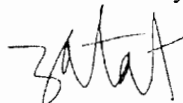

We would like to invite public and private primary and secondary schools in 11 Southeast Asian countries to submit the entries. The last day for submission of entries is Friday, 18 September 2015.

In this regard, we would like to kindly request the support of your good office to disseminate and promote the announcement of the SEAMEO 50x3 Schools' Network, and SEAMEO Song Angklung Contest as herewith attached to the potential schools under your country. Details of both programmes and application forms are available on the SEAMEO website: www.seameo.org.

For more information of the SEAMEO 50x3 School's Network, and the SEAMEO Song Angklung Conetst, please contact Ms Piyapa Su-angavatin, SEAMEO Secretariat, through email at: Piyapa@seameo.org or by telephone number: +66 (0) 2391 0144.

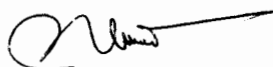

Your kind support and cooperation is greatly appreciated.

Yours sincerely,

1 Introduction

In November 2015, The Southeast Asian Ministers of Education Organization (SEAMEO) will mark half-a-century of operations. As a regional inter-governmental organisation established among Southeast Asian countries, SEAMEO takes pride in its achievements over the years as Southeast Asian's leading organisation in promoting regional cooperation and human resource development in education, science and culture.

In response to the 2015 Southeast Asian community integration initiative, the development of partnerships and networking among schools and educational institutions across communities and countries is important to the aim of encouraging cooperation, the sharing of good practices, and exchanging teachers and students. The networking platform will also provide opportunities for teachers and students to understand cultural differences and leverage their necessary knowledge, skills and values to become global citizens and be more prepared for regional integration.

On the occasion of SEAMEO's 50th Year Anniversary, the SEAMEO Secretariat and the 21 SEAMEO Regional Centres and networks have jointly developed a networking platform of schools in Southeast Asian countries titled the SEAMEO 50x3 Schools' Network.

The network aims to serve as a "Network of Sharing and Development" between schools across Southeast Asia. The network consists of schools at three levels of education: primary, secondary, and vocational and technical schools.

The network aims to leverage the capacity of school leaders, teachers and students through capacity development programmes and other contributions from 21 SEAMEO Regional Centres, SEAMEO stakeholders, and partners. The network also provides opportunities for schools within the network to develop partnerships at the same, and across different educational levels.

For the year 2015, 50 primary schools, 50 secondary schools and 50 vocational and technical schools will be selected. At the end of 2015, it is expected that the SEAMEO 50x3 Schools' Network will be developed further and the number of participating school members expanded.

2 Definition of the SEAMEO 50x3 Schools' Network and its objectives

- The network is primarily a networking platform to promote and encourage partnerships and collaboration among schools in Southeast Asian countries, namely, Brunei Darussalam, Cambodia, Indonesia, Lao PDR, Malaysia, Myanmar, Philippines, Singapore, Thailand, Timor-Leste and Vietnam.
- The network consists of schools at three levels of education: primary, secondary, and vocational and technical schools.
- In the initial year of establishment in 2015, the network will select 50 primary schools, 50 secondary schools and 50 vocational and technical schools from 11 Southeast Asian nations.
- The network aims to leverage the capacity of school leaders, teachers and students in participating schools through specialised capacity development programmes and other resource contributions from 21 SEAMEO Regional Centres, SEAMEO stakeholders, and SEAMEO partners.
- The network aims to provide opportunities for participating schools to develop partnerships, share good practices, and exchange teachers and students within the network.

3. Participating Schools

- We invite all public and private primary, secondary, and vocational and technical schools in 11 Southeast Asian countries, namely, Brunei Darussalam, Cambodia, Indonesia, Lao PDR, Malaysia, Myanmar, Philippines, Singapore, Thailand, Timor-Leste and Vietnam to submit an application form. (Please refer to the Application Guidelines as in point 5)
- The schools should demonstrate the following attributes (Please refer to the details in selection criteria as in point 6.):
 - School leaders, teachers and students have the potential to participate in capacity development programmes conducted by 21 SEAMEO Regional Centres and Networks.
 - Schools have policies and the aspiration to develop partnerships with other schools.

4. Benefits for Schools that Participate in the SEAMEO 50x3 Schools' Network

Schools selected to join the network will gain unique and beneficial opportunities to participate in a wealth of enlightening and innovative educational programmes designed and conducted by 21 SEAMEO Regional Centres, SEAMEO stakeholders and partners.

- Opportunities for school development programmes
 - This includes an invitation to participate in SEAMEO regional initiatives such as: Schools Nutrition Development Programmes; the SEAMEO Schools' Fit Programme; the Health Promotion Programme; Digital Learning in Southeast Asia; and Internationalisation and Harmonisation of TVET in Southeast Asia.
 - Schools will also get an invitation to participate in various SEAMEO regional competitions and award schemes for schools and their teachers.
- Opportunities for school leaders and teacher development programmes
 - An invitation to participate in training courses, workshops and seminars that cover various educational development topics conducted by SEAMEO Regional Centres.
 - An invitation to participate in various on-line/mobile training courses aimed at improving teaching and learning strategies.
 - An invitation to participate in training courses on teaching and learning resource development.
- Opportunities for student development programmes
 - An invitation to participate in SEAMEO regional competitions and award schemes for students.
 - An invitation to join on-line and mobile training courses designed to develop 21st century skills for students.
- Opportunities for improving teaching and learning resources
 - Participating schools will receive teaching and learning materials produced by SEAMEO Regional Centres and SEAMEO partners.
- Opportunities to receive scholarships and grants
 - These grants will enable schools to implement school-based development programmes.
 - Some scholarships for disadvantaged/poor students will be provided by SEAMEO Centres and partners. (The contributors will select schools by considering location, policies, and needs of the schools.)
- Opportunities to receive news about activities and programmes in SEAMEO centres
 - Schools within the network will receive information about ongoing SEAMEO programmes, training courses and activities that cover various topics within the fields of education, science and culture.

- Opportunities to develop partnerships, exchange teachers and students, and share good practices with other schools.
 - The network will give participating schools unique opportunities to share information on requested partnership areas and contact details in order to facilitate greater partnerships and collaboration across the whole of Southeast Asia.
 - A group communication platform through on-line platforms will be developed to help the exchange of information and partnerships.

1. Introduction

The angklung is a musical instrument made of two to four bamboo tubes suspended in a bamboo frame and bound with rattan cords. The tubes are carefully whittled (carved with small incisions) and cut by a master craftsman to produce certain notes when the bamboo frame is shaken or tapped. Each Angklung produces a single note or chord, so several players must collaborate in order to play melodies.⁽¹⁾

It is one of the most popular and common musical instruments found across Southeast Asia. It originated in what is now the West Java and Banten provinces of Indonesia and it has been played for many centuries. In 2010, UNESCO officially recognized the Indonesian angklung as a “Masterpiece of [the] Oral and Intangible Heritage of Humanity”.⁽²⁾

Angklung Ensembles

The angklung is a unique musical instrument in the Southeast Asian region and playing it in an orchestra setting requires skilled cooperation and coordination among musicians. Playing this instrument promotes values of teamwork, discipline, responsibility, mutual respect, concentration, the development of imagination and memory, as well as artistic and musical feelings.⁽¹⁾ Many schools in Southeast Asian countries have included the angklung as part of their musical curriculum and co-curricular activities in order to promote the aforementioned skills and to develop the values of students.

On the special occasion of the 50th Anniversary of SEAMEO, the SEAMEO Secretariat in collaboration with the SEAMEO Regional Open Learning Centre (SEAMEO SEAMOLEC), Indonesia have jointly organised a regional musical contest titled the “SEAMEO Song Angklung Contest”.

2. Objectives of the Contest

The contest aims to:

- 1) Celebrate the SEAMEO 50th Anniversary by promoting the Southeast Asian identity and appreciation of cultural heritage through a common and unique musical instrument in Southeast Asia, called “Angklung”
- 2) Promote the necessary values and skills of Southeast Asian students such as cooperation, harmonisation, responsibility and creativity which will better equip them for 21st century challenges and ASEAN integration.
- 3) Enhance digital learning and the ICT skills of students by utilising mobile technology and learning how to produce a video.

3. All primary and secondary schools in Southeast Asia are invited to participate.

All primary and secondary schools in 11 Southeast Asian countries – namely Brunei Darussalam, Cambodia, Indonesia, Lao PDR, Malaysia, Myanmar, Philippines, Singapore, Thailand, Timor-Leste and Vietnam – are invited to participate in this contest.

4. Contest Categories

The school is free to choose the category in which they would like to participate. The contest consists of two categories:

- 1) A traditional angklung performance, and;

- 2) A digital angklung performance through the use of an android smart phone.

Schools/students need to download the digital angklung application for the android smart phone from Google play. The Angklung application example can be found by typing in the search term "Sundanese Instrument" in Google play.

You can see some examples of digital angklung ensembles by searching "Digital Angklung" from YouTube (<https://www.youtube.com>)

5. Songs to be Performed

The school entries must include the following two songs. The length of the performance should be a maximum of 3.5 minutes per song.

- 1) SEAMEO Song ("Building the Future, the SEAMEO Legacy").

The lyrics, melody note and mp4 of SEAMEO Song can be downloaded from the website: www.seameo.org or requested by sending an email to: angklungcontest@seameo.org

- 2) An international/local popular song of the entrant's choice.
